Dave Lowery has been published extensively, both nationally and locally, in various newspapers and magazines. He specializes in aviation writing and photography and publishes numerous newsmagazines and newsletters for various corporate clients. Dave also teaches photography at SAIT.

George Webber has been photographing the people and landscape of western Canada for nearly 25 years. His photographs have been published in many magazines (Canadian Geographic, ALBERTA VIEWS, Photo Life, American Photo) and books and are included in numerous Canadian and international museum collections. George is also a long-time SAIT photography instructor.

The workshop includes: five 8.5X11 photo quality archival inkjet prints, CD with your photographs, room for two nights, wine and cheese reception, two breakfasts, one lunch and one supper.

Students can bring their own digital camera or share cameras supplied by the workshop.

Participation is limited so be sure to register early.
